

VUDU™
Technology's Black Magic

We invented the string dampener in 1997... The Deadly-Quiet™. The design absorbed excess string energy, helped arrow launch increasing speed and string alignment. The copies that followed all suffer from repeated string slaps. You've seen dramatic video of these oscillations. VUDU™ traps the string in its recoil chamber, eliminating multiple strikes and limb shock. Other string stops can not make these claims.

VUDU™ X-link™ uses nylon tipped set screws to reduce gouging. A second X-link™ adds unequalled reach and precision placement or choose from other mounting options. Basic VUDU™ includes one X-Link, two pistons and VuLube™ lubricant.

Rubberized receiver...soft, low luster quiet perfection.

"...with over 30 years of shooting experience, it is easy to see the VUDU has taken the string stop to the next level. The way the VUDU piston captures and secures the string is revolutionary. This stop virtually eliminates vibration, and no vibration means no noise. The reduction is drastic! My customers rave over the results. Philip Medlin said "been suffering from elbow pain in my bow arm. Never knew what caused this until I installed a VUDU. The VUDU removes so much bow shock that my elbow pain is gone." I include it on every bow I sell because I know how much it improves my customers shooting experience."
